

ONCE A DOCTOR, ALWAYS A DOCTOR

By Florence Westminster, Clarion Health Correspondent

Few suppliers, if any, of Homecare or Mobility products have a doctor working for them. Wolstanton-based CCC Ltd, however are delighted to have the experience and knowledge available to them of Dr Neil Stirling who joined the company's team last summer.

Although now retired as a medic, he is still as active, enthusiastic and knowledgeable as ever. After being a National Health GP for many years he went into private practice until the time of his retirement. Almost three decades were spent as North Staffordshire Police Surgeon combining this as County Medical Officer for the Red Cross.

He acts for Castle Comfort in an honorary advisory capacity and the company recognise this by adding appropriate funds to the CCC Doug Brown Motor Neurone Fund of which Terry Conroy is Patron. Neil is particularly supportive of this cause as his late wife was a MND sufferer.

He is found at Castle Comfort Centre's showroom at Wolstanton several mornings per week and enjoys helping out with the general running of the business.

Ann Bruce, director of Castle Comfort told the Clarion, "having a medical professional around gives everyone here great pride. Potential customers are really impressed when they can receive his product advice and clients are naturally delighted when they get a courtesy telephone call, soon after a product delivery, from who else but Doctor Stirling."
